Re: our genocides.

Dear Donald,
dear Alexis, Andrej & Andrej, Angela, António, Boyko Charles, Dalia, Emmanuel, Giuseppe, Joseph, Juha, Jüri, Klaus, Krišjānis, Lars, Leo, Marjan, Mark, Mateusz, Nicos, Pedro, Peter, Sebastian, Stefan, Theresa, Viktor, Xavier,
dear Jean-Claude,

These days are our common remembrance days. We commemorated that on January 27, 1945, 74 years ago, Auschwitz was liberated. We commemorated the approximately six million Jews who were murdered in the Holocaust. Today, we commemorate that 86 years ago, on January 30, 1933, Hitler was appointed as Chancellor of Germany. The subsequent joyful frenzy of the Nazis elicited the painter Max Liebermann the remark: "I cannot eat that much, as I would like to puke". And yet, what would follow after 1933, no one could even imagine.

It seems as if nobody does remember either, as the horror of mass murder of specific groups of people is with us again. One of these groups is the group of 'drug users', as you define them. Singled out for punishment by the USA government in the years following the end of WWII, the entire world community has committed itself since the 1961 Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs of the fantastic task of getting rid, under the UN umbrella, of the 'evil' of drugs use and users.

Under the pretext of taking care of the health and welfare of mankind and without the necessary scientific substructure, a moralist approach to terminate millennia old practices of other, indigenous peoples was forced upon the world's governments by the new super power and its allies. Millions of people would die, and each death was an argument to persevere and eradicate the evil users.

Evil? Yes, the lies, repression of science and facts, hate campaigns, the recruitment of the world mafia and outright warfare which the war of drugs brought to humanity. Murder and a lot of deads. A mass murder brought as charity. Now that the true nature of this war has become clear and a humane approach to the problem of drugs is proposed in progressive quarters, the rabid drugs warriors are proceeding to the last resort, the public promotion of extrajudicial mass killing.

Already more than two years applied in Asia and encouraged by the US President, this new phase of the drug user genocide is currently spreading over the world. There is cause for great concern for drug users because, in contrast to 1933, we already know what is awaiting us. The reaction of the international community moreover is perplexing, as most UN-nations signed up for Trump's 2018 'Global Call to Action on the World Drug Problem', an initiative to revamp the failed war on drugs.

If you wish to commemorate the holocaust and honor the victims, please do abjure this new genocide loud and clear, as there exists no essential difference between you and Jews and us, drug users, except the difference you created: the purity of your blood and the impurity of the blood running through our veins, containing illegal substances or coming from alleged inferior races.

The Drugs Peace Institute has asked the Prosecutor with the International Criminal Court to extend the preliminary examination of the situation in Duterte's Philippines to include the president of the USA. No reply has as yet been received. We therefore call upon you to impress upon the ICC to look into this request.

But more important, there is only one way out for permanent redress: de-criminalization of the use of mind-altering substances. The Secretary-General of the United Nations, Mr. Antonio de Oliveira Guterres, has given the successful example as prime minister of Portugal. Please support him now that we wish to repeat this paradigm change on the world stage and repeat his European example.

Do remember the Nazi history and make our remembrance real.

Sincerely yours,

Adriaan Bronkhorst Büller
